that

four different factions are attempting to gain control of the Riviera Hotel. These groups are fighting among themselves over matters of policy. As a consequence, the hotel has done very poorly business wise during the past several months. The Riviera has one of the best locations on the strip and from a physical standpoint, offers the most desirable accommodations. However, because of the bickering and lack of proper promotion, people are going elsewhere.

It is for this reason alone that the present owners of the hotel are anxious for MCE DALITZ and the other owners of the Desert Inn Hotel to buy into the Riviera. They feel the Desert Inn group will take over and based on their previous successes, will make money for everybody.

CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES

When interviewed on August 24, 1930, by Gaming Control Board Agents, DALITZ advised he had been indicted for conspiracy in 1951 in New Jersey. He explained that he had loaned a sum of money to SAM STEIN, who was an old friend. STEIN went into the exporting business and DALITZ helped him make contacts for purchasing cotton.

STEIN, unknown to subject, started exporting contraband in the nature of airplane parts. STEIN, DALITZ, and others associated with the venture were indicted for violation of the Neutrality Act. Subject was indicted because of his financial interest. He later explained his position and the case against him was dismissed. The others pleaded nolle contenders:

He advised he was never indicted in Buffalo, New York, on February 3, 1930, by the U. 5. Court. He did see a small article to this effect in a paper, but no papers were ever served. He has never had any business connections in Buffalo.

About thirty-five years ago, he met MORRIS KLEINMAN and SAM TUCKER, who are presently associated with him in the operation of the Desert Inn and Stardust Rotels, Las Vegas. KLEINMAN, TUCKER, and himself were all engaged in "rum running." They were all small independent operators and consequently, decided to consolidate their operations.

DALITZ got out of the rum running business towards the end of prohibition. It became increasingly more difficult to operate and more dangerous as the Coast Guard strengthened their forces.

After getting out of rum running, he went into illegal gambling. He admitted he engaged in illegal gambling in various places, but declined to elaborate. He did state he wasactive in the Beverly Hills Club and the Lookout House in Newport, Kentucky. He believes his partners in this venture were MORRIS KLEINMAN, SAM TUCKER, SAM SCHRAEDER (a local Kentucky man), and several small incentive interest holders.

He no longer has any interest in these establishments. The Lookout House closed and he sold the Beverly Hills to SCHRAEDER, JOHN CROFT, and SCHRAEDER's brother-in-law.

LEGITIMATE BUSINESS

DALITZ stated he was a partner in Wilbur Clark's National Casino, Havanna, Cuba. His partners were W. C. MC GINTY, MORRIS KIEINMAN, and SAM TUCKER. JACK LANSKY was a floor boss in the casino. He was a salaried employee with no financial interest in the hotel.

The hotel was sold thirty days before CASTRO took over. It was sold to MIKE MC KLANEY of Florida.
